Ahmad Hassan is one of the brightest young talents in world cricket. A genuine all rounder who bats in the top order and bowls excellent seam, the ceiling is extremely high for this impressive young man.

At just 17 years old he has already impressed many experienced observers with his talent and strong work ethic. He comes recommended by seasoned UK professional Saad Khan who states he is a rare talent who would excel overseas. He has represented Pakistan Under 19s in the 2024 World Cup and had a great tournament, with his team being knocked out in the Semi Final, in a tight encounter against Australia. His best performance came against Ireland, where he showcased his all round ability with a strong 57 with the bat and 2/37 from 8 overs with the ball.

He is now looking to establish himself at first class level and it is only a matter of time before opportunity knocks having already been involved in the Champions Cup for Sialkot Stallions and being part of the red ball four day squads in recent times.

Although still a young man, Ahmad's talent is rare and he would represent an exciting signing for any club seeking a genuine all rounder with the potential to go all the way in the game. We reckon he could be a gem of a club cricket professional in 2025.
